group of campers took to the water for some splashing fun. The theme for this year's camp is "Walking in God's Way."

Fort Frances Community Clinic workers need your help

We are CUPE 65.08, health care workers at the Fort Frances Community Clinic. We are having great difficulty at the bargaining table.

For years we have been underpaid, been without basic benefits other health care workers receive, without pensions, and with little or no pregnancy, parental and jury duty payments. We can't wait any longer for decent wages and benefits.

We are struggling to get a fair contract with Fort Frances Community Clinic. A contract that will begin to bring us in line with other health care workers in Fort Frances.

We work for you, the community of Fort Frances, and we are proud to be part of providing our community with the best in health care.

We don't want to strike. We want to continue to offer our services to the community — and you need those services!

Please contact the Board of Directors of Fort Frances Community Clinic and tell them to give us a fair deal. Tell them you need our services.
