

WORKSHOP

WORK UNION HOME COMMUNITY

We've turned the calendar on a new millennium but most women are still expected to do more and get paid less than their male counterparts. With the call of the World March of Women ringing in our hearts, we're putting the call out for members interested in a new workshop.

Come explore the issues facing women in our CUPE Locals. In the Up with Women's Wages workshop you'll examine the causes that hold women's wages down and focus on how we can bring them up through collective bargaining and collective action strategies.

Come see yourself in the larger picture. Learn how to focus on real change and how to organize around your own wage issues. Learn how to build solidarity with the other women and men within your local membership on these issues.
